

Direct Anterior Approach Hip Replacement Surgery

A hip joint with advanced osteoarthritis.

The most appropriate implants are chosen.

The femoral neck and head are removed, and the acetabulum and femoral canal are prepared for the implants.

The implants are securely fixed into place, sometimes with bone cement.